

DR. MARY E. WALKER
SUFFERS BREAKDOWN

Noted "Dress Reformer" Dangerously Ill in Hospital in New York

NEW YORK, March 17.—Dr. Mary Walker, widely known as an advocate of women's rights and "dress reform," in which she set an example by wearing male attire, is in the Presbyterian Hospital here, and is reported to be dangerously ill.

Relatives in Oswego, N. Y., have been notified. Upon her arrival here yesterday she was found to be suffering from a nervous breakdown and was given a drug to restrain the convulsions. The amount of her advanced age is said to complicate her condition, and a surgeon's report will prove critical.

Among other distinctions Dr. Walker is that of being the first woman ever in the world to hold a commission as an assistant army surgeon. She was promoted to this position and served as a nurse on the battlefields of the Civil War during which she adopted the plan of wearing trousers.

For late years Dr. Walker had been a leader in the woman suffrage movement and claimed to have been the first woman to attempt voting at the polls. She has made suffrage speeches throughout the United States and England.

Dr. Walker is suffering from a severe case of bronchitis which is threatening pneumonia. Work with hard work at Albany and Washington in the suffrage cause during the last week, the aged woman has little strength to fight a serious illness. The patient had a temperature of 105 degrees late tonight.

PREMIER YI'S FINANCIAL POLICY NOT APPROVED

"Four Powers" Group of Financiers Suspicious and Accuse Him of Tricky Dealings

PEKIN, March 17.—Premier Tang Shao Yi has left here for Nanking. The southern delegates with whom he came to Pekin departed several days ago. Some foreign ministers, who have met Tang Shao Yi, consider him something of a visionary. The "four powers" group of financiers, though perhaps with some bias, are of the opinion that his financial policy is dangerous, and accuse him of trickiness in negotiating the present loans with which he was entrusted.

The southern delegation generally disappointed the diplomatic representatives as with one exception they were apparently without experience. Anarchy and famine prevail throughout the country. The nation's finances are in a chaotic condition, and China is divided into several parts. The legations do not fear any immediate or widespread uprisings or antiforeign attack, but they do not believe that the country will be reunited, the army disbanded and reorganized and progressive development accomplished without long and intense suffering and serious political struggles.

It is believed that the scheme for financing China until the end of June has been suspended in consequence of the loan furnished by the Franco-Russian syndicate. The "four powers" group have refused to advance the 100,000 taels which was promised Saturday in consequence of this alleged breach of faith, and are awaiting advances from their respective governments.

When Premier Tang Shao Yi implored prompt financial assistance owing to the necessity of paying off 20,000 soldiers, he did not hint at any other loan, although negotiations to that end were then in progress. The incident is attributed to the Chinese desire to play off the rival foreign interests against each other.

SHREVEPORT, La., March 17.—Miss Matilda Moisant, sister of the late John B. Moisant, narrowly escaped her brother's fate here today when a descending wire, an extension of a gas monoplane struck the ground at a steep angle, bounding into the air and turning turtle. Miss Moisant jumped a few feet just as the tail of the machine dropped. She was helped from the wreckage unharmed. The monoplane was badly damaged.

It is believed that the Manchuria will not be able to depart for at least a week. Damage estimates are impossible at this time.

DOWN BY BURGLAR

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 17.—If all marriages were contracted in churches, there would be far fewer divorces, in the opinion of Chief Justice Joseph G. Donnelly of the Milwaukee civil court.

There should be, first of all, parental consent," said Judge Donnelly, today. "Then there should be the ceremony performed by a minister in a church, before the friends of both the man and the woman. There should be the ring and the wedding march and all the other little too-been-all-the-sentimental, if you will—that go with the acceptance of a sacred responsibility. And it should have the proper setting."

Take the other side of the picture. The young couple rush to the license clerk, possibly just before closing time, to keep it out of the papers. They turn to the nearest judge and apply for a special dispensation. They are taken into his chambers. There is nothing here to remind them of the nature of the contract into which they are about to enter. A few musty law volumes, the smell of stale tobacco smoke—in the air—perhaps a few minutes before a woman of the underworld has sobbed out a pitiful story of wretched shame to a calloused lawyer. What is there in this environment to maintain the impressiveness of the beautiful sacrament of marriage?

"Will the average man and woman regard the ceremony performed in a law office with that feeling of awe and reverence that must come when two persons meet at God's altar to plight their troth?"

Wage Increase to Put $10,000,000 in Workers' Pockets

BOSTON, March 17.—Wage increases amounting to more than $10,000,000 will go into the pockets of New England textile workers in the next 12 months, according to authoritative estimates of the result of the present upward trend of wages in cotton and woolen mills.

On the basis of an annual pay roll of $75,000,000 in the woolen mills, the increase there will amount to $5,600,000, while cotton mill operatives will receive an advance of $5,000,000.

Fully 25,000 operatives will share in the increase by April 1 if all the mills that have not yet joined in the movement follow the lead of the larger concerns. Announcements of contemplated advances affect upward of 200,000 mill workers, while other cotton manufacturers have indicated an intention of meeting the wage advance. The New Bedford offer of a per cent increase will be acted on early this week by the textile council which recently presented a demand for a 10 per cent advance.

Although there is a division of opinion among the operatives, many are said to favor accepting the manufacturers' offer but revising their demand for 10 per cent when business improves. The textile council, representing five unions of Fall River operatives, has voted to reject the offer of an advance of 5 per cent and demands 10 per cent. Negotiations between the labor representatives and mill agents will continue this week.

Close observers believe a compromise will be arranged. On the raise in Fall River will depend the probable final attitude of the New Bedford unions. Although a few of the big Lawrence mills are still nominally under the ban of the strike, indications tonight pointed to a general return to work tomorrow. Statisticians figure the injury by the Lawrence strike to manufacturers at $1,500,000 on business lost, a forfeit by the strikers of about an equal amount in wages and a cost to the state and city of $300,000 for militiamen and extra police.

TARIFF REVISION WILL OCCUPY BOTH HOUSES

WASHINGTON, March 17.—Tariff revision will continue to occupy both houses of Congress this week. When the house passes the excise income tax bill, Tuesday, and submits a woolen schedule revision to the Democratic caucus, possibly by the end of the week, the revision program there will have been ended.

Democratic revision measures are piling up in the senate. The finance committee's adverse report on the house iron and steel bill will be made this week. The finance committee will hear Chairman Emery of the tariff board Tuesday, on the house chemical tariff bill, hearings on which will follow the chemical bill.

Meanwhile, the Democrats and Progressive Republicans are no nearer an understanding, though some of them express confidence that common ground might be reached on some tariff legislation.

Democratic leaders in the house are determined to speed up legislation. Some members of the ways and means committee and many other Democrats are insisting on free wool, to which Democratic Leader Underwood is as much opposed as he was originally to sugar. Mr. Underwood's idea is to report a schedule that would conform to the conference report last summer, which proposed a 27 per cent advance in the tariff on raw wool.

Inspection of the excise bill in the house, Tuesday, will open the way for further consideration of appropriation bills. The postoffice bill, which would establish a parcels post system, will be considered under a special rule. The senate will vote March 25 on the Stephenson election case. Saturday the special senate committee that investigated Senator Lorimer's election will vote on its report.

Investigation showed that he had sawed almost through one of the bars and had filled the crack with blackened soap.

POLICE ASKED TO SEARCH FOR MISSING CHAPLAIN

INDIANAPOLIS, March 17.—Officers of the Twenty-third infantry, stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, near here, tonight asked the police to search for the Rev. John E. Dallam, chaplain of the regiment, who has been missing from the post since yesterday morning when he came to the city on a leave of absence.

The officers said they inquired at all the hospitals and among the chaplain's friends before appealing to the police. The chaplain had not been feeling well for several days and they feared he had been stricken ill.

WATCHMAN KILLED BY HOLDUPS, WHO ESCAPE

BUTTE, Mont., March 17.—James Casey, a watchman, was shot and killed early today when he interrupted the holding of a North Main street saloon. George Mead, with a wound in his side and another in his arm, was arrested at a hospital, and is suspected of being one of the two robbers.

The robbers fired up 18 shots against the wall and one was hitting the cash register, when Casey, who took in the situation from the sidewalk, entered revolver in hand. Both robbers and the officer opened fire, the latter falling dead in the doorway. The robbers stepped over his body and disappeared.

Switchman Speaker in Arizona House

PHOENIX, Ariz., March 17.—Samuel H. Bradner, a switchman in the Southern Pacific yards at Benson, was selected as speaker of the house of Arizona's first state legislature by a caucus of Democratic members today. He will receive the unanimous vote of the Democrats when the legislature meets at 11 o'clock tomorrow. Only four of the 36 members of the lower house are Republicans.

Bradner's only rival for the place was A. R. Lynch, an attorney of Bedford. Both were members of the constitutional convention in which Bradner headed what was known as the "labor" delegation. He was the choice of the state administration for speaker.

A caucus of Democratic members of the state senate was held tonight and no opposition developed to Michael G. Cunniff of Crown King, who will be elected president. Fifteen out of 18 senators are Democrats, the other four being Republicans. Cunniff was a member of the constitutional convention. Prior to coming to Arizona four years ago, he was engaged in magazine work in New York, and before that an instructor at Harvard.

Probably the first act of the legislature will be the enactment of a constitutional amendment repealing the recall of the judiciary, struck out at the insistence of President Taft. It is believed that an equal suffrage amendment also will be submitted to the people. A drastic antihabbing act already has been drafted and may be submitted on the first day.

Gov. W. P. Hunt's message to the legislature is understood to be almost as lengthy as the constitution. It will urge many legislative reforms and the fulfillment of the numerous mandates in the constitution. It may not be read to the legislature until Tuesday morning.

TRIBUTE TO CLEVELAND ON 75TH ANNIVERSARY

NEW YORK, March 17.—Grover Cleveland's memory was honored today at a public meeting in the city college, commemorating his seventy-fifth birthday anniversary. Tributes from President Taft, Governor Dix of New York and Governor Harman of Ohio were read and eulogistic addresses were delivered by men with whom Mr. Cleveland had been associated. The exercises were attended by Mrs. Frances Folsom Cleveland, widow of the former president and Mrs. Daniel S. Lamont, widow of the secretary of war in one of the Cleveland cabinets.

Grover Cleveland earned the sincere gratitude of his countrymen and justified recurring memorial occasions like the one in which we are taking part," President Taft wrote. "He was a great president not because he was a great lawyer, nor because he was a brilliant orator, nor because he was a statesman of profound learning, but because he was a patriot with the highest sense of public duty, because he was a statesman of clear perceptions, of the utmost courage of his convictions and of great plainness of speech; because he was a man of the highest character, father and husband of the best type, and because, throughout his political life, he showed those rugged virtues of the public servant and citizen, the emulation of which by those who follow him will render progress of our political life toward better things a certainty."

Representative Thomas W. Hardwick of Georgia said he wished to express on behalf of the Democracy of the south and of all the people of the south, the deep respect and esteem we hold for Mr. Cleveland in his life, the sorrow we had for his death and the pride with which we cherish his memory."

COLDWELL, N. J., March 17.—In this, Grover Cleveland's native town, memorial services to celebrate the seventy-fifth anniversary of his birth were held at the Caldwell Presbyterian church, of which his father once was pastor. Mrs. Cleveland was present at the services, coming direct from the exercises in New York.

The Caldwell Memorial association announced that it hoped by next year it would be able to dedicate the "Old Manse" where Cleveland was born as a perpetual memorial to the late president. For this purpose $50,000 is being raised.

ROOSEVELT, JR., HELPS VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

SAN FRANCISCO, March 17.—Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., was threatened with suffocation while aiding volunteer firemen in putting out a blaze at the suburban residence of Charles W. Clark, son of former Senator W. A. Clark, today. With several other guests, young Roosevelt and his wife were seated in Clark's drawing room when burglar alarms in the house began to ring.

Smoke was issuing from the basement where defective wiring had started a fire. An alarm was telephoned to San Mateo and 35 volunteer firemen responded. Roosevelt mounted the roof, but was ordered down by one of the firemen. He tried to descend via the attic which was choked with smoke. There he was discovered, groping about, by a fireman and escorted to safety.

He joined the other guests who were wading ankle deep in the flooded basement, but all were soon ordered out by George Bartholomew, the chief of the volunteers. The guests then huddled in the drawing room and awaited developments. The flames were checked in about 15 minutes, little damage having been done.

Clark himself fell under the disfavor of the firemen when he ran into the dining room to collect his silverware. Not recognizing him, the volunteers ordered him to put down the plate and get out. After the excitement had subsided, Clark marshaled the fire fighters in the drawing room and, with the aid of his guests, served them with wine.

WHICH IS THE INGRATE?

PERHAPS the most frequent of the accusations the Roosevelt campaign used by the supporters of President Taft, is that the former President has treated his successor unfairly, that he has been guilty of disloyalty and ingratitude. Reference to the history of the relations between the two men easily shows which is the bad ingrate, and that it is not Roosevelt.

Taft was soon to hold a celebration of the tenth anniversary of the establishment of an independent republic, and its people will be able at that time to boast of a marvelous industrial growth, whatever may be their political shortcomings. This is true of the entire period since the close of the Spanish War. In 1892 the entire foreign trade of the island was $125,000,000, and the balance was $25,000,000 against Cuba. In 1910 the total trade had more than doubled, amounting to $259,250,000, with a balance of $43,312,000 in favor of Cuba. One does not usually think of the island republic as a maritime nation, but in 1910 it had 4,047 vessels of 412,944,372 tons. This shows a considerable gain since 1902 when there were 3,848 Cuban ships in the ocean trade, aggregating 7,846,771 tons.

If Cuba's advancement and understanding of the spirit and aims of self-government had been commensurate with its industrial growth it would even now rank among the most stable and prosperous of the small nations of the earth. Unfortunately though, the period since its release from Spanish misrule has been entirely too short for the education of the people along this line. Of course this is inevitable, for it is not to be supposed that a people who for four centuries were schooled in oppression to regard government simply as organized tyranny, could in a brief fifteen years obtain a complete understanding of self-government as the term is understood by Anglo-Saxon peoples.

Even in South America where the republican form of government has existed for almost a century there are only three nations, Brazil, Argentina and Chile, that appear to have learned the lesson thoroughly. For the sake of the American people who have assumed the role of guardian for the Cubans it is to be hoped that the island republic will be able to show good results in a much shorter time. But the record of two revolutions within five years, and the present political unrest do not make the outlook at all hopeful.

But no sooner was Taft elected than he began turning a cold shoulder to Roosevelt's friends and to seek the advice and counsel of Roosevelt's enemies, men who had persistently fought to defeat and discredit Roosevelt's policies. Even before the inauguration Taft had made Senators Aldrich and Hale and Congressmen Payne and Daizell his chief counsellors, and he consistently followed their advice in legislative matters, especially the all-important tariff bill. He selected a cabinet in which the reactionary anti-Roosevelt influence was predominant. His support of Ballinger and repudiation of Pinchot practically nullified all that Roosevelt had accomplished in making effective the conservation policy, a principle to which Taft had repeatedly pledged his hearty support. Little by little he surrounded himself with Roosevelt's enemies and allowed them to dictate his policies. His course for the entire three years of his administration has been a constant repudiation of his pre-election promises to the people to maintain the policies of the Roosevelt administration.

Yet throughout this time Roosevelt has not uttered a word in criticism of Taft, and until now he has committed no act that could be construed as unfriendly. Indeed, there is plenty of room for two opinions as to whether Roosevelt's present candidacy is actually an unfriendly act, for any man has a perfect right to run for office whenever he feels warranted in doing so, regardless of who else is in the race.

In the light of these facts, which of the two has really shown himself to be ungrateful or disloyal to the other?

MIXING OIL AND WATER

We observe in the news columns of the ever-versacious Telegraph that the Taft Republican club gets a new recruit every now and then. But the Telegraph's article does not make plain whether they are joining the Hamlin-Taft Republican Club or the Brooks-Taft Republican Club, both of which have been duly launched in Colorado Springs, and each of which is industriously whetting its knife on its bootleg in anticipation of a possible collision. Our reactionary neighbor would have us believe that the Hamlin-Taft Republican Club has benevolently assimilated the Brooks-Taft Republican Club, but there are reasons for believing that such harmony as now prevails is akin to the harmony be-between the lion and the lamb when they lie down together with the lamb inside.

We sincerely trust that no harm will come to the sacred cause of bipartism in the P. C. C. There are no internecine feuds of the two, and bipartism, as far as we have the power to precisely determine, that the Devil's love-hate water, even though it is devoted to the defense of bipartism in Washington, long life and prosperity to the Taft Republican Club of El Paso County. For the former is a waver, the greater will be the number of converts which it will make to progressive Republicanism. We can imagine no sounder a contrast to the Progressive idea than the spectacle of such enthusiastic stampers and machine politicians as G. Hamlin and J. E. Weeks, smothering or attempting to smother their latent urge in support of that ironclad eighteenth century political ideal, the presidential candidacy of William H. Taft.

His method of extracting the percentage of business controlled by his corporation is to add the total capitalized value of several steel companies to that of the United States Steel corporation and divide the sum by the total, which makes it appear that the United States Steel corporation controls 90 per cent of the industry. In this association steel companies are omitted and the corporation includes the value of many properties not owned in the other companies, such as ore lands, iron-ore, steamship, coal, bonds and the various processes of the production of the finished product, from the mine to the consumer.

Actual figures of production are available to show the proportion of the industry controlled by the United States Steel corporation. These figures for 1910, as quoted by the Commissioner of Corporations in his report of last July, show that the corporation made 44.4 per cent of the pig iron produced that year and 54.3 per cent of the steel rods and castings. The maximum in any line was 72.3 per cent of wire rods, and the minimum, 32.1 per cent of wrought pipe and tubes. Moreover, the per centage controlled by the United States Steel corporation was less in all branches than in 1901, except pig iron, and the percentage of that was practically the same in both years.

THE GROWTH OF CUBA

PROBABLY no spot on earth of equal area is more favored by nature than Cuba. It has a soil of wonderful fertility, and an ideal climate, so it is only natural that it should prosper in a material sense whenever governmental conditions are even moderately favorable.

Cuba is soon to hold a celebration of the tenth anniversary of the establishment of an independent republic, and its people will be able at that time to boast of a marvelous industrial growth, whatever may be their political shortcomings. This is true of the entire period since the close of the Spanish War. In 1892 the entire foreign trade of the island was $125,000,000, and the balance was $25,000,000 against Cuba. GYPSIES ACCUSED OF THEFT

Three gypsies, giving the names of John Mallengro and Michael and Mrs. Francis Brannigan, were arrested yesterday morning in a warrant issued by Justice Dowdy's court, on charge of theft with stealing $60 worth of articles from Mrs. Edna Haslett. The two men are in the county jail, but the woman is released to care for her child. After three and a half hours of cross-examination, Justice Dowdy has been unable to find any evidence to support the charge. A heavy band has been placed around a number of articles owned by Mrs. Haslett. It is well known that they took rugs, bed linens and curtains belonging to her and sold them to local peddlers. City Detective Peter Kneale made the arrests.

Yesterday, his wife claims Ford became intoxicated and started to abuse her and the two-chapter Constable Pavton was notified and placed Ford in the county jail. Ford is about 40 years old.

It is claimed McGuire was brought back from Denver a few days ago.

Pretty Mothers

Health is the foundation of all good looks. The woman realises this and strives to pass through the period of child bearing to the best advantage by adding an air of grace, but the nursing and demands of such occasions. This is why we can say do through the use of Maternal Care, a care that has been so much neglected, that it is in no way an effort, but a pleasure which always produces the best results. It is for such an appearance and this is what we do. The period of child bearing is a time of great trial and suffering, but a pleasure which always produces the best results.

We are a preoccupied people. The manufacturer dwells constantly on the cost, output and the market, in order that demand may balance supply. The demand for service in the world today is far greater than the men who are able to supply the need. The monotony of life without service becomes dull, dreary and deadly. It can be made luminous by association with God. We are called to the transmission of our spiritual life. By surrender to him and by obedience we have his friendship and a wonderful freshening and glorifying of life.

MAY BE ARRAIGNED TODAY

The alleged Count and Countess Vigo von Holstein Rathen, held in the county jail on charge of larceny, embezzlement and obtaining money under false pretenses, probably will be arraigned before Judge Morris in the district court, this morning. An attempt will be made to give them a full hearing this week.

ELKS ANNUAL GREEN TEA AT CLUB HOUSE TONIGHT WITH EMBEZZLEMENT $450

Following a long established custom Colorado Springs, Aug. 30th. It is now to be continued as seen the custom, lasting St. Patrick's day, of the club house tonight and from time dropped by members of the committee, our refreshments and entertainment will be entirely paid for.

The official press agent of the affair has been putting in about time for the last two weeks, and his studies have been at great expense to get off the boards. However, he says that everything will happen as he has said, and those who have attended previous green teas will witness the same.

The club house has been handsomely decorated for the occasion, and everything is in readiness for the 50th Anniversary of the Elks Lodge, which is to be celebrated with great enthusiasm.
